

2009 OURAY OPEN RULES

LOGISTICS

1. Check-in. You must check in near the upper bridge before rappelling in on the fixed line provided.
  - a. Check-in time is 15 minutes before your starting time.
  - b. You will rap in 5 minutes before your start time.
2. Time. You are allowed 15 minutes to complete the route.
  - a. Time will start when called by the judges, whether or not you have begun to climb.
  - b. If you are still on the route at 15 minutes, your high point will be the highest controlled hold reached at that time. After 15 minutes, you will be called off the route and lowered to the bottom.
3. Climbout. If you do not complete the route, you must climb out on the top rope provided.

RULES/JUDGING

1. Judging Criterion. Place will be determined based solely upon the highest controlled point reached. Competitors reaching the same high point will receive the same place.
2. Tools. Only leashless tools may be used. Tools will be checked at the bottom of the route and must drop from an open hand. No heel spurs are allowed.
3. Clips. You must clip every fixed protection point on the route. You must clip each protection point before the lowest part of your body has moved above the lowest carabiner of the quickdraw. In the case of a traverse or roof section of the route, you must clip before your body has moved beyond an unclipped carabiner/quickdraw in the line of the route as determined by the judges. The only thing that may be supported by in-situ gear is the rope; no tools or crampons may be placed in gear for any reason, at any time. You may not weight tools with anything other than your hands or arms. You may not hook your feet, legs, or any other appendages on your tools. Any violation of this rule will result in disqualification.
4. Boundaries. The route may contain a boundary line; placing a tool or foot across that line, if any, will result in disqualification.
5. Previewing. You may view the route from the viewing stands only, but may not use viewing aids (binoculars, viewing scopes, etc.) to do so. You may not preview the route from the bottom of the gorge; you may not watch other climbers until after you have finished your climb; you may not deliberately preview the route while rappelling into the gorge before your attempt; you may not climb routes near or adjacent to the competition route in order to preview the comp route. Violating this rule will result in disqualification.
6. Broken Holds. Upon a determination of the judges that a competitor's attempt has been affected materially by a broken hold, the competitor may obtain another attempt. Any request for another attempt because of a broken hold shall be made immediately to the judges, and no competitor will be allowed another attempt if he or she has watched any subsequent competitor on the route. The total time posted for any competitor who obtains a second attempt will be the time taken to reach the high point on the first attempt plus the additional time spent on the route. In other words, the clock will restart once the competitor reaches the previous high point.
7. Appeals. The competition will be videotaped. Results will be posted no later than 6:00 p.m., Saturday January 10, 2009. Competitors may appeal the final results no later than 10 a.m., Sunday, January 11, 2009, by filing a written appeal stating all grounds for the appeal with OIPI BOD President Bill Whitt, and posting a $100 cash bond. If the appeal is successful, the $100 will be returned; if the appeal is not successful, the $100 will be forfeited. The decision of the appeals judges shall be final and not subject to further appeal.
